

AF027 THE TECHNOLOGY OF PAINT & COATINGS

AIA HSW credits

Learn about the contents of a paint product and the contributions that each content provides to the paint. It will also review the importance of proper surface preparation prior to painting and the various technologies and coatings systems available. The presentation will also include information on options to consider when a low carbon footprint is required.